Alexandria Gazette.

MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 17, 1910.

Jimmy's Recitation.
Jimmy is one of the most enthusiastic members of his Sunday school. He is usually very quiet, but when, soon after he joined, a storm prevented many members of his class from coming to take their parts in a long planned entertainment Jimmy could not endure in silence the distress of his teacher.

"Hi can speak a piece," he said bashfully.
"Oh, can you? What is it about?"
"Bout the beasts that went with Noah."

"Well, said the distracted teacher, 'I haven't time to hear it now, but I think it ought to help fill up. Thank you, Jimmy.'" When Jimmy's name was called the small man mounted the platform, put his hands in his pockets and proudly and loudly spouted the following:

The heik and the elephant hentered the ark.
When the elephant hopened the baik.
The heik hanked the hehphant, "What's to heat?"
Said the hehphant, "Ay is haik."
The heik and the hehphant hante the 'ay:
Said the heik, with a hehloquent sigh,
'Hil 'ou you are 'appy this 'orrible day."
And the hehphant hanswered, "Haze."
—London Tit-Bits.

Coyote and Jack Rabbit.
The speed of the jack rabbit has always been proverbial among western men, like the speed of a coyote. In a straightaway race it is claimed that the jack rabbit can distance the coyote, but he usually falls a victim to the coyote's superior intelligence. The favorite coyote method for catching jack rabbits is for one of the animals to start a jack and attend to the work of keeping the victim on the run, while the other coyote sits down, patiently awaiting the arrival of his dinner.
The jack rabbit when he has a free range will run in circles, and the coyotes cleverly count on this habit.
Before long the rabbit will arrive at the place from which he started, and there coyote No. 2, fresh and ready for a short sprint, will swoop down upon him and then divide the meal with the coyote that has done the actual chasing.—New York Press.

Hunting Truffles as Sport.
Quite apart from the interest of fungi to the naturalist the temptation cannot here be resisted to refer to a method of procuring one kind of fungus, which might take rank among the minor sports. This is the fashion, originating in France, of procuring the truffle by the aid of swine and hounds.
More ill assorted sporting companions can hardly be imagined. The truffle grows underground. Pigs are particularly fond of these delicacies and guided by the scent, will discover them by rooting in the earth. After the discovery of the truffles the dogs are employed to beat back the pigs and prevent them from devouring the spoils. And every quality dear to the sportsman of skill and judgment is needed to control and obtain the desired result from the efforts of a herd of swine and a pack of hounds.—London Outlook.

Habits of Seals.
The habits of seals are very interesting. The very young seal is helpless in the water until he is taught by his mother to swim. She takes him into the water daily on her fin and dumps him in and when he gets tired of floundering about places him on her fin again and returns to her camp.
When the young seals are well grown they suddenly disappear with their mothers and the bull seals. No one knows where they go, and their return is equally as sudden as their departure.
The bulls are the first to put in an appearance at the camping ground.
When they arrive they commence at once to prepare a camp for their mates, which they stake off and for which they fight until they die. In the meantime the female seals remain quite a distance from land, floating lazily on the water and seemingly having a good time.

Ant Eaters.
Ant eaters are in the curious position of being practically unable to open their mouths. It may almost be said, indeed, that they have no mouths to open. There is just a small, round orifice at the end of the snout, through which about two feet of wormlike tongue can wriggle out, and as this tongue is bathed with liquid glue instead of saliva every ant which it touches adheres to it, and the animal licks the insects up by hundreds at a time.

Not Up to Modern Standards.
"Your wife's new hat makes her look like a queen," said the man who tries to be complimentary.
"Don't let her hear you say that," answered Mr. Bliggins. "I have looked through the histories, and I never yet saw a picture of a queen who looked as if she employed a first class milliner."—Washington Star.

Evarts and the Author.
When a popular young author went to see William M. Evarts while he was secretary of state in behalf of a consulting for which he was an applicant Mr. Evarts congratulated him on the fame which he had acquired, but hesi-tated to add, "Although you have laurels on your brows, I suppose you can't browse on your laurels."

Inquisitive.
After Sunday school:
Willie—Did you hear that boy swear, Johnny, when I told him to go away?
Johnny—No. (Quietly persuasive) Tell him to go away again and I'll listen.— Manchester Guardian.

Human nature is so constituted that all see and judge better in the affairs of other men than in their own.—Terence.

Fifty years' experience of an Old Nurse Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and has been used for fifty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. It relieves the child from pain, cures diarrhea, griping in the bowels, and wind colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Smokeless

Until science discovered a way to construct the Automatic Smokeless Device, and make it completely dependable, all oil heaters had one common great fault—smoke.

With the advent of the Automatic Smokeless Device, and its practical application to the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device) the smoke problem was successfully solved.

The Perfection Oil Heater is the only heater equipped with this

Automatic Smokeless Device which insures a steady, full-glowing heat, with the wick turned up as high as it will go, without a shred of smoke. Reverse the motion, turn the wick down—there's no odor.

The smokeless device automatically locks and prevents the upward movement of the wick beyond the proper exposure. That secret. This automatic result gives leadership to the Perfection.

You may now have all the heat you want—when you want it—and where you want it—without the annoyance of smoke or odor.
Brass front holds 4 quarts of oil, which permits a glowing heat for 9 hours.
Brass wick tube—damper top—cool handle. Cleaned in a minute.
The Perfection is beautifully finished in Nickel or Japan.
